African American Experience

The African American experience encompasses the myriad contributions of individuals from the African American community who have achieved prominence in the arts, entertainment, the sciences, business, the military, and politics as well as nameless others that endured the travails of slavery and institutionalized discrimination. A collection that taps a tremendous variety of sources is required to cover a topic of this magnitude and the importance to understanding African American history and its relation to greater U.S. history. Contains primary documents, including slave narratives, speeches, court cases, quotations, advertisements, statistics, and other documentation. Provides thesis-driven, peer-reviewed scholarly essays within the exclusive Idea Exchange sections. Provides material directly tied to associated primary source documents, images, and other classroom resources. Includes 1,500 photographs, maps, and other images.

Latino American Experience

Coverage ranges from precontact Aztec and Maya societies to 21st-century political issues like recent immigration law to cultural themes like coming-of-age rituals, music, literature, and cuisine. The Latino American Experience provides learners with far more than history lessons with facts and figures; it gives voice to the Latino experience through Latino authors and contributors. Content includes hundreds of primary documents and media, including speeches, maps, songs, audio clips, interviews, and vivid historical photographs. Faceted searching allows for fast and powerful refinement of search results. Ongoing content updates enrich the site throughout the school year. Thesis-driven, peer-reviewed scholarly essays contained within the database's exclusive Idea Exchange sections pose questions such as "How should we refer to Americans who descend from Spanish-speaking countries?"

American History in Video

American History in Video provides the largest and richest collection of video available online for the study of American history, with 2,000 hours and more than 5,000 titles on completion. The collection allows students and researchers to analyze historical events, and their presentation over time, through commercial and governmental newsreels, archival footage, public affairs footage, and important documentaries. This release now provides 5,986 titles, equaling approximately 1597 hours.
