Introduction

This guide is intended to help answer questions about how to find and apply for different types of financial assistance for college. At Eastern Wyoming College, more than 90% of full-time freshman students receive some type of funding to help pay educational costs, whether in the form of grants, scholarships, employment programs, tuition remissions, third-party payments, or other outside resources. The key is to submit applications for everything possible by published deadlines and provide any additional information requested in a timely manner. Please contact EWC’s Financial Aid Office for assistance.

Sources of aid

Financial aid comes from many different sources: Federal, state, institutional and outside resources can all help pay for college. Aid also comes in different types, such as grants, scholarships, employment, loans; each source of aid may have multiple types available.

Grants and Scholarships vs. Loans:
Grants and scholarships are considered “gift aid” and generally do not have to be repaid (except under certain circumstances where a student withdraws from an entire semester); however, loans MUST BE PAID BACK. That’s why students should apply for all the grants and scholarships that are available before choosing to go into debt.

Aid eligibility
To be considered for most types of financial aid at EWC, a student must:
• Complete EWC’s Application for Admission,
• Be accepted into a degree or certificate program,
• Have an official high school or high school equivalency transcript (GED/HIGESET/TASC) on file with the Admissions Office,
• Make Satisfactory Academic Progress as defined by EWC’s SAP Policies for financial aid, and
• Enroll at least half time (six credits) for most programs (except Pell and certain scholarships)

Each source and type of aid may have additional requirements as defined by the individual program or donor.

FEDERAL sources of aid

The U.S. Government is the largest source of financial aid for college. To qualify for any of the federal aid programs listed below, students must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) each year online at fasa.gov. EWC’s School Code is 003929. Federal aid programs available at EWC include:
• Pell Grant
• Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG)
• Federal Work Study
• Federal Direct Loans
  Direct Subsidized Loans
  Direct Unsubsidized Loans
  Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students (PLUS)

EWC’s priority deadline for FAFSA completion is March 15.

Please note that many scholarships and other aid programs require completion of the FAFSA to determine financial need; EWC’s Financial Aid Office encourages ALL students to complete the FAFSA yearly, even if they do not think they will be Pell eligible, because of the requirement to determine need.

See EWC’s Catalog or go online to ewc.wy.edu for more information about federal aid programs. Detailed definitions of each program and annual amounts available can also be found at StudentAid.gov.
STATE sources of aid

Hathaway Scholarships are designed to provide an incentive for Wyoming students to prepare for and pursue post-secondary education within the state of Wyoming. The program, which was named in honor of former Wyoming Governor and U.S. Secretary of the Interior Stanley K. Hathaway, consists of four separate levels of merit scholarships, each with specific eligibility requirements, and a need-based scholarship for eligible students that supplements the merit awards. The need-based scholarship requires completion of the FAFSA.

To apply, students must:
- Complete EWC’s Application for Admission,
- Complete a Hathaway Scholarship Application,
- Have an official high school or high school equivalency transcript (GED/HISET/TASC) on file with the Admissions Office,
- Provide official test scores to EWC’s Admissions Office

INSTITUTIONAL sources of aid

More than 100 separate Institutional Scholarships, Foundation Awards, and Activity Grants are available to EWC students. Most scholarships require, at a minimum, a GPA of 2.0 and half-time enrollment (six credits). While the majority of scholarships require no special program of study, others are designated for students pursuing a major in areas such as: agriculture, art, business, criminal justice, education, health, social sciences, welding, etc. Eligibility requirements differ from one scholarship program to another. Criteria from various scholarship programs may relate to GPA, credit hours completed, high school affiliation, county of residence, organization membership or affiliation, enrollment level or other standards set by the donor.

Please note that scholarships are split into two equal disbursements, with half the award amount given for the fall semester and half for the spring semester if award criteria are met, unless otherwise indicated.

Applying for aid for summer

All students seeking scholarships or federal financial aid for the Summer must complete EWC’s online scholarship application via their MyEWC account. Summer scholarship awards are based on funding available and general eligibility requirements. Federal aid for summer is based on amount of annual Pell and loan already used for the academic year in comparison with annual limits. Graduating high school seniors can get federal aid for the summer semester, but must submit the current year’s Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and submit a final, official high school transcript. A separate award package is created for the summer semester. To apply for loans for the summer sessions, a student must be enrolled in at least six credits and complete a separate loan request form from the academic year.

Applying for scholarships

To be eligible for any EWC scholarships/activity grants, you must:
- Complete the EWC Application for Admission.
- Provide an official high school (or high school equivalency) transcript. A final, official high school transcript with your graduation date must be on file in order for state and federal aid to be disbursed.
- Provide official college transcripts from any other colleges you have attended.
- Some scholarships require ACT scores as well.

It is also highly recommended that all students complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Many scholarships require information from the FAFSA to determine need. The FAFSA must be completed every year.

Apply online by logging into your MyEWC account and clicking the Scholarship App button. New students receive a user name and password for their MyEWC account with their acceptance for admission. Students can contact EWC’s Help Desk for any issues with their MyEWC user name or password at 307.534.2912 m3.

The priority deadline for applying for 2019-2020 scholarships is March 15, but you may continue to update your application and reapply for Spring 2019 and/or Summer 2019 awards by logging back in and changing your answer to the term you are applying for. Be sure to reapply for the next academic year as well.
