

Library Tidbits

FEATURED

Welcome Back!

Finally! Students and staff alike can use their MyEWC login to access library resources from off campus. We are no longer using a generic login.

In May and June the library, county library and local AAUW co sponsored an exhibit entitled, "Cowboy Carnegies". The exhibit highlighted Carnegie libraries across the state. The exhibit was displayed in the CTEC for two weeks. It also traveled around town to the County Library, Lincoln Center, Chamber of Commerce and Homesteader's Museum.

New carpet! The library received a facelift over the summer. What you can't see is the upgraded electrical and data. What you can see is the fresh paint, new carpet, window treatments and the spiffy new workstations and front desk. Stop by and check it out.

Also of note is that we no longer have access to Mango Languages. In its place UW has purchased Pronunciator and graciously provided access for the entire state. You can pick from 87 languages to learn one.

Check out this chart from Statista:

"The direction in which education starts a man will determine his future life.— Plato"

NEWS

Hot off the press! New fiction titles available for checkout:

The Fall of Gondolin
By J.R.R. Tolkien

French Exit
By Patrick deWitt

The Other Woman
By Daniel Silva

Labor Day Hours

September 1-3, 2018

Closed

Upcoming Displays

Wyoming Archaeology Awareness
Month

Constitution Week
September 17th—23rd

Banned Books Week
September 23rd—29th