FEATURED

New @ Your Library Signage

Have you walked by and noticed our new signage? In an effort to make resources more discoverable the library has updated our signage.

Call number ranges and subject areas are listed on the end of the stacks. Larger signs for the copy machine, seed library, magazines and wireless printer have been hung as well as signs for reference, non-fiction and the help desk.

In addition to these larger signs we have added shelf labels to the children's non-fiction section to identify the subject areas.

CredoInfoLit on Canvas

Modules with information literacy content have been created and shared to the Canvas Commons for use in your classes! We have three modules to pick from. Basic, Intermediate, and Advanced Information Literacy Modules are available. Each module is comprised of tutorials and videos that students can work through right in Canvas.

There are quizzes available that can be linked with the Canvas gradebook. If you are interested in using these please contact the library.

To download content go to the Commons, search for Eastern Wyoming College and download content. If you need assistance please contact Aaron Bahmer or the library.
