INCOME VERIFICATION

IRS Data Retrieval Tool (ONLY for 2020 Tax Filers who have an FSA ID):

The easiest way to verify income information for Single, Married Filing Jointly, and Head of Household tax filers is to use the IRS Data Retrieval Tool (DRT) when completing the FAFSA on the Web. To use the DRT, the student must log-in to the FAFSA at StudentAid.gov with his/her FSA ID and select "Make Corrections." If the student was a 2020 tax filer and is attempting to use the DRT, the student will need to update the STUDENT 2020 tax return status, type of return, and filing status. Follow-up questions will determine the student's eligibility to use the DRT. If eligible to use the DRT, a button with the title "Link to IRS" or a hyperlink titled "View options to link to IRS" will be available on the screen. On the IRS website, confirm that the student information is correct, and type in the exact address used to file 2019 taxes. Click "Transfer Now." If the transfer was successful, you will not be able to see/review the data elements, but instead will see data elements labeled as "Transferred from IRS." Please re-sign and re-submit the FAFSA. If the parent(s) were 2020 tax filer(s) and are trying to use the DRT, a parent will need to update the parent 2020 tax return status, type of return, and filing status. If the parent tax filer is eligible to use the DRT, the parent will need to enter their PARENT FSA ID (only one parent needs an FSA ID) before the "Link to IRS" or "View option to link to IRS" option appears. The remainder of the process is THE SAME for the parent as the student.
