Re: Monthly Financial Report

REVENUES:

The original FY-2023 operational fund revenue budget total is $15,859,546, as adopted on July 12, 2022. It has increased by $1,000 due to funds received for the Women's Basketball team for their participation in the Eastern Arizona College basketball tournament. An additional $284 was received by the golf team for helping with Community Ed. This brings the total budget to $15,860,830. In FY-2023, we have recognized $14,168,097 in revenue representing 89% of the approved budget, which is largely made up of state aid in the amount of $8,650,946. Overall, operational fund revenue is 1% lower than last fiscal year. Tuition and fee collections are $4,030,786, which comes to 101% recorded fiscal year-to-date.

Institutional revenue is based on an in-state tuition rate of $105 per credit hour. The mandatory student fees are currently $38 per credit hour.

Regular credit tuition revenues are $4,030,786, which is 101% of the amount budgeted. Indistrict fees are $389,340. This is 97% of the amount budgeted. Outreach fees are $167,348, which is 122% of the amount budgeted. Non-credit tuition is $120,969. This is 62% higher than last year and 119% of the amount budgeted.

Auxiliary Fund revenue recognized to date is $1,183,634 or 93% of the approved budget. Food service and conference center revenues are $524,886 or 91% of the budget recorded at the end of this reporting period. Food service and conference center revenues are 27% higher than the previous year. Housing revenue is $643,351 which is 3% higher than the previous year and 97% of the amount budgeted.

EXPENDITURES:

The operational fund includes all of the unrestricted operating budgets for the College's instructional, public service, academic support, student services, institutional support, plant operations, institutional scholarships, and non-mandatory transfers to other programs (primarily auxiliary operations). As of the end of the current period, $15,545,130 or 98% of the operational fund budget was expended. Salaries and benefits account for $8,452,438 or 54% of the total expended and current and capital expenditures are $7,092,692 or 46% of the total amount expended. Last year's salaries and benefits, and current and capital expenditures totaled $7,966,588 (56%) and $6,219,985 (44%) respectively. Salaries and benefits spending is 6% higher than last year. Capital expenditures are 14% higher than last year. Overall, operational fund spending is 10% higher than last year.

Within the Auxiliary Fund, $1,325,987 or 94% of the budget was spent in the current period and 1% higher than last year.

INVESTMENTS:

Cash on hand in various demand accounts at the end of this period total $7.5 million. Of this total, $1,999,183 is being held in the Operating Fund checking account, earning a 2.50% fixed interest rate, which was effective 2/15/2023. During the month of June, two million of EWC funds were placed in Certificates of Deposit at Pinnacle Bank earning 4.80% interest. The sixmonth average market interest rate paid by WYOSTAR is 3.40%. The credit card sales repository account has a balance of $33,438. Restricted repairs and maintenance funds for the Torrington campus total $938,612 and cash reserves for the payment of CTEC and ATEC general obligation bonds held by Goshen County are $1,787,286.

EWC has Excellence in Higher Education Endowment (EHEE) funds in the amount of $796,151 (included in the bank accounts listed above). While we endeavor to seek bids for these funds periodically, they are currently earning 2.50% in our Operating Fund checking account.

Operations and maintenance funds for the Douglas Campus total $588,520. These funds are held with Converse County Bank.

OTHER FINANCIAL AND RELATED MATTERS:

We have started working with the auditors for the FY23 audits for the College, Foundation and Eastern Wyoming BOCES. EWC was awarded an extension for use of the HEERF funds. The original deadline was June 30, 2023. We now have more time to utilize these funds.

Part II Narrative Analysis

Description of Community Need:

Current Community Need/Growth of Industry:

The Biology/Wildlife and Fisheries Biology Management program includes two degree programs which serve both traditional and non-traditional students. EWC offers A.S. Degrees in Biology, and Wildlife and Fisheries Biology and Management (as an option). The number of students majoring in these programs has decreased slightly over the last three years.

There are well-documented needs for biologists on both state and national levels. Advances in biotechnology, genetics, environmental and disease research are providing openings in the fields of biomedical research, wildlife and fisheries biology, and environmental quality. The latest statistics available from the General Accounting Office predict that federal biological agencies will face large losses of personnel during the following decade due to mass retirements and declining numbers of students majoring in these fields in Colleges and Universities. The Wyoming Game & Fish Department and Department of Environmental Quality are likely to see similar trends.

The major role of the Science Department is to provide science instruction for students who plan careers in health care fields, agriculture, science education, veterinary medicine, natural resources fields, and ecology. Science department courses also serve to meet the "lab science" science requirement for graduation from EWC and four-year transfer institutions. Science department courses represent 7.4% of EWC's 5-Year Average Annual FTE enrollment.

The Science Department now offers two degree programs -- A.S. Degrees in Biology, and Wildlife and Fisheries Biology and Management. Enrollment in these degree programs is relatively low (5- year average is 12 majors). However, this number has increased by two over the past three years due in part to the implementation of the 2+2 articulation agreement with the University of Wyoming.

Science courses in biology, chemistry, physics and zoology meet the general education lab science credit requirements. These courses also fulfill associate of science degree requirements for transfer programs in agricultural business, agricultural economics, animal science, rangeland ecology/watershed management, biology, the pre-professional programs, as well as wildlife and fisheries biology and management.

Activities in Support of Student Recruitment and Retention (if applicable)

Efforts to recruit more students into Biology programs is on-going and needs to be continued. Strategies for the increased marketing of these programs need to be devised in order to meet the future demands of both state and federal government biological agencies.

Supply and equipment budget constraints are ongoing concerns as they may impact recruitment and retention efforts. Labs for the science courses which make up the core of Biology programs need to have regular equipment/technology upgrades. Although IdEA Networks for Biomedical Research Excellence (INBRE) grant funds have provided much needed assistance in this area, current EWC budgets do not allow for replacement and upgrades as needed.

Enrollment in sophomore level science classes remains low, in part, as a result of low numbers of science majors nationwide, and as a result of the under -preparedness of many of our incoming students who lack the basic reading and math ability necessary for a college level science course. To better address this problem, a new co-requisite course (Critical Science Skills-BIOL1009) is being developed to help underprepared students improve their reading and math skills. In addition, to better serve our outreach students, both online and face-to-face versions of science courses are currently being offered in Biology, Zoology, Physics, and Chemistry.

There have been two A.S. degrees conferred in Biology, and Wildlife and Fisheries Biology in the past three years. Although this number is low, it is expected to increase with revised 2+2 articulation agreements (originally implemented at the beginning of the 2015-16 academic year) in collaboration with the University of Wyoming in the next few years.

Science faculty members are concerned that the demand for distance learning courses, coupled with on-campus lecture and lab commitments produces overloaded schedules which may lead to instructor burn-out. The current system for determining workload should be revised to take into account other factors such as class size, number of advisees, number of lab hours, distance courses, and number of preps.

Assessment of Student Learning: Analysis of Program Learning Outcomes.

Science faculty members are currently using a rubric-based outcomes assessment to evaluate graduating students individually. Core competencies including critical thinking skills, and knowledge of specific disciplines pertinent to the major are evaluated. Assessment results are discussed between the advisor and student. Interventions, remediation, and curricular adjustments are made as needed. An example of the Program Learning Outcomes Assessment Rubric is attached.

Strengths of the Program and Faculty:

Science classes are typically small, allowing for one-on-one instruction. Labs are taught by the lecture instructors (rather than teaching assistants), so lab instruction is of high quality and reinforces lecture topics. Faculty members are offering concurrent Biology and Chemistry classes so local high school students can more readily take advantage of the quality courses offered at EWC. Online courses are offered which allow students to take science courses which would not otherwise be available in outreach sites.

The science department has highly qualified and hard-working faculty members that collaborate well together. Science faculty members regularly attend articulation conferences and strive to maintain equivalent courses. Faculty members continue to incorporate new technologies as their budgets allow.

Part III Recommendations

Faculty Recommendations:

Science classes meet the needs of many transfer students, whether or not they graduate from EWC. The transferability of courses and the articulation agreements with regional transfer institutions should be emphasized in recruiting efforts.

Faculty need to be able to plan together to incorporate new technology into science classrooms but are constrained by budgetary limitations. Budgets for future growth in these areas should not be neglected. These are hard to plan for with carry-over dollars as the main source of funding. INBRE funds are helping, but they are not a solution to a long term problem. Laboratory supply budgets need to increase annually to keep up with rising costs of materials and shipping.

Faculty need to continue professional development activities, and maintain articulation with other college science programs. In addition, changes to improve student learning (i.e., review/write student learning outcomes), curricular changes, continued INBRE grants (i.e., Base, Collaborative, and Scaled Participatory Research and Education Model (SPREM)), along with potential NASA Space grants need to be implemented.

Continued recruitment efforts and new marketing strategies need to be implemented in order to ensure the future success of Science programs. EWC needs to continue to offer a wide range of courses for students in science majors to facilitate our students' entry to, and success in, transfer and professional programs. Also, to best serve our students, research experiences in our INBRE lab facility need to continue to be developed and implemented.

Recruitment of quality "math & science ready" students continues to be an important goal. Additional numbers of academically well-prepared science students at EWC would benefit the college in a variety of ways. Their increased numbers would improve enrollment in our second-year science and math courses. Since many of these students are high-achieving students, they often serve as our tutors in the Learning Skills Lab, enhance our INBRE research facilities, and their presence in EWC's General Education classes raises the overall quality of classroom interaction.

Despite current low student enrollment in the Biology and Wildlife and Fisheries Biology and Management degree programs, student numbers are anticipated to increase over the next several years with updated UW 2+2 articulation transfer agreements, and improvements to science facilities and equipment. Science degree-seeking students continue to visit our campus and express strong interest in our programs.

Advisory Committee Recommendations: N/A

Department Head / Program Director Recommendations (Submitted by Sherri Warren):

- 1. The quality and variety of course offerings in the Biology/WFBM programs needs to continue. Faculty need to collaborate regularly to incorporate new technology into science classrooms and assure the course offerings meet the needs of students, both in content and delivery modes. Research experiences through the INBRE program need to continue and be expanded to include other curricular areas such as Chemistry and Statistics. INBRE should be considered as a viable incentive to recruit students into the Biology/WFBM program.
- 2. Articulation with transfer colleges needs to be a high priority. In addition, professional development needs to increase in order for faculty to stay current in the fields of the sciences as well as innovative and current teaching methods. The budget should be adjusted to allow for faculty to continue their learning at no outside cost to them. This expertise will benefit the students and the college.
- 3. Budget allocations for lab supplies and equipment need to be planned and implemented to reflect the increased cost of these items and the continual need to replace equipment as it diminishes through attrition or becomes outdated. Students notice when the science

- equipment is not up to date and often deters their learning when it is so egregiously outdated.
- 4. Efforts to recruit high-achieving students need to be revised. These types of students are important in maintaining the viability of the program and efforts need to be redirected by looking into effective recruitment strategies and implementing those in the next year. EWC should continue offering scholarships or other forms of incentive for students who demonstrate a high aptitude in science and mathematics, however, we need to consider other ideas and methods to increase the enrollment in the Biology and WFBM programs.
- 5. Faculty burnout is a concern for this department. Faculty doesn't have the time to work on recruitment and professional development when they are continually in high overload. Adjunct instructors are also used to fulfill courses at both campuses (some online and some face to face). It is my recommendation that the science department hire a third Biology instructor who would be mainly housed at the Douglas Campus. This would replace the two adjuncts at the Douglas campus and would relieve some of the current high overload by including online courses in their workload.

Vice President's Recommendations:

Strengths of the Science Cluster:

- a. Small Class Sizes that provides individual attention
- b. Creation of a Co-Requisite Model for College Biology
- c. Continued participation in the INBRE grant with the University of Wyoming
- d. Dedicated faculty and strong commitment to student success
- e. Strong collegiality among faculty

Opportunities for the Science Cluster:

- a. Consistent funding source for equipment and supplies to include grants, consortiums, and the adoption of course lab fees
- b. Continued work on the use of retention, persistence, and completion for degree students focused on intervention and remediation strategies, enrollment targets
- c. In coordination with Admissions, the development of recruiting strategies to increase the number of students enrolling in Science Cluster Degrees
- d. Continued work and focus on Program and Institutional Outcomes for curriculum alignment, instructional strategies and course completion rates foe Gateway courses.
- e. Continued work with the University of Wyoming and other colleges on course and program articulations
- f. Completion of staffing analysis for future growth and staffing considerations
 - g. Coordination with concurrent faculty on alignment of course, program and institutional outcomes.

Dutch IT Solutions – Eastern Wyoming College – Technology Solution Plan

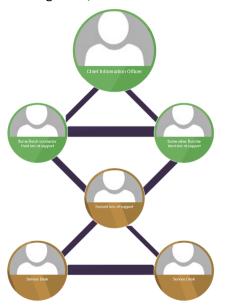

Based on ITIL: Information Technology Infrastructure Library. A set of industry best practices from which we pick the most suitable tools to accommodate the present and future needs of the EWC organization.

Service desk – First line of support

"Excellent incident management, helping the customer to return to productivity."

The role of the service desk is to provide a single point of contact between users and the IT service management operation. The primary functions of the service desk are incident control, service requests, and communicating with the customer.

The service desk has the oversight of each layer of service from beginning to end and will be focused on expectation management and communication. Furthermore, they are in control of changes to the knowledgebase, based on historical information and upcoming changes.

Finally, the service desk keeps a sharp eye on the response times and can route tickets to the second or third line of support before those timers run out and/or if deeper expertise is required to find a solution.

Network administration – Second line of support

"Excellent incident and change management, assisting both the first and third line of support."

Takes over incidents that cannot be solved immediately with the means of first level support. Creates and executes changes on assets, network and firewalls. Some changes can be executed by the service desk but under supervision by the second line of support.

Infrastructure management – Third line of support

"Strong architecture, design, and overview over the whole IT operation"

Takes over incidents that cannot be solved by first or second line of support. Will act as incident manager in case of priority 1 and/or 2 calls (usually critical and/or organization wide). Overseeing complex changes, managing projects, can act as change approval for second level support changes. Responsible for architecture, design, and compliance matters.

Ms. Rachelle Anderson, P.E., from Benchmark, presented information on the CTEC concrete pad project. She stated the advertisement for bids should start next week, and a contract to follow. August 7, 2023, is the projected start date for construction.

Motion to approve letting a bid for the concrete pad for CTEC and approval of Kwin Wilkes to authorize and execute the bid, pending later review by the Board:

Motion moved by Randy Adams and motion seconded by Kurt Sittner. Motion passed.

4. Approval of EWC as a co-applicant on the EDA Grant for the Douglas Campus expansion project.

Trustee Willox presented information on the progression of the EDA grant for the Douglas Campus. The preliminary amount was $2 million. EASTERN WYOMING COLLEGE FISCAL YEAR 2024

Presented for your consideration is the proposed annual budget for fiscal year 2024. This budget is for the second year of the 2023-2024 biennium. The combined budget for all funds is $29,681,249.

Revenue Outlook:

The College faces uncertain funding levels as student enrollments continue to trend downward. Overall, State appropriations for FY24 are higher in order to fund a 5% salary increase approved by the Legislature for College employees and continued funding for the nursing programs and health insurance premium reimbursements. There is also an increase in State appropriations granted to help with inflationary pressures on current educational costs.

Program Adjustments:

EWC has completed a significant restructuring of administration, which involves new positions for Vice President for Academics and Student Services and Vice President for Administrative Services. These changes also include an Executive Dean of Academics, a Student Services Dean, and a Chief Financial Officer. There is funding in this budget for these positions along with a number of priorities, including: a salary increase for full and part-time employees, IT enhancements, HCM2 support and specialization, and other new positions like a Livesock Judging Coach, Resident Hall Coordinator, assistant coaches for the basketball teams, and a Grant Writer in conjunction with the EWC Foundation and Goshen County Econimic Development.

Capital Construction:

EWC will receive just over $1.1 million in major maintenance funds from the State during FY24. EWC will proceed with a boiler replacement project for the Tebbet Classroom Building. The plan is to also proceed with the replacement of the chiller unit for the Fine Arts Center. EWC will also continue the campus security project, which includes additional cameras and door access controls compatible with card readers. EWC has contracted with MC2 to complete the next Campus Facilities Master Plan. This plan will be completed in the Fall of 2024.

Pursuant to W.S. 16-4-112 and W.S. 16-4-113, a public hearing was held on June 30, 2023 to consider and take comments on the proposed fiscal year 2023 budget program transfers and budget authority increases as outlined in the Public Hearing Notice. No comments from the public were offered during the hearing. In the Unrestricted Operating Fund, it was necessary to transfer expenditure budget authority in the amount of $80,000 from Instruction, $100,000 from Student Services, and $350,000 from Scholarships & Fellowship to Academic Support ($30,000), Institutional Support ($500,000), and Operations and Maintenance of Plant ($180,000) for increased expenses in attorney fees and contract expenses tied to the DOE program review and the College's HCM2 status, along with personnel, travel and increased utilities for the fiscal year. Within the Unrestricted Auxiliary Fund, $98,000 of expenditure budget authority was moved from Food Service to Motor Pool ($23,000) to cover additional motor pool costs and to Housing ($75,000) for increased utility and maintenance costs. The Unrestricted Optional Mill Levy Fund was lowered by $130,000 to offset, at least in part, the overall increase to the Unrestricted Operating Fund. The Restricted Grants & Contracts/BOCES Fund has budget increases requested across all functional programs (except Student Services) to recognize new grants received during fiscal year 2023 that were not included in the original budget.
