Part II Narrative Analysis - Social Science

Description of Community Need:

Current Community Need/Growth of Industry:

This is an academic transfer program meaning that it is preparing students for transfer to a 4-year school. After obtaining four-year degrees, many students obtain employment in the fields of government, law, education, business, social or counseling work, international relations, advertising, analyses, archiving, consulting, congressional aides, foreign service officers, foundation staffers, information specialists, intelligence agents, journalists, legal assistants, lobbyists, personnel managers, or public relations staffers. Some of our students pursue graduate degrees.

The following are four common student career paths for our graduates:

1. Counselors/therapists

Activities in Support of Student Recruitment and Retention (if applicable)

The Social Science program has been very consistent in enrollment and graduation rates. It is an attractive program with its flexibility and transferability. Further, our courses are the basis for all transfer students in terms of electives and general education categories.

The Human Services degree has attracted students who might not otherwise have come to college. It is designed for a student to gain employment after 2 years.

Our students have access to a variety of scholarships including the Black and Gold, First Generation, Department Scholarship and the Hathaway Scholarship. These scholarships aid in recruitment of students.

Assessment of Student Learning: Analysis of Program Learning Outcomes.

Social Science PLOs:

- 1. Evaluate the historical and contemporary influences that have led to diversity in the U.S.
- 2. Describe how societal institutions originated and evolved.
- 3. Apply the conventions of written and oral communication to the analysis of history, political science, psychology, or sociology.
- 4. Explain the essentials of citizenship and society.
- 5. Utilize discipline-specific knowledge to identify reasons for conflict and the institutions/options for its management.
- 6. Support the importance and relevance of the human identity and experience.

Evaluation for each: 3 pts – Mastery; 2 pts – Proficient; 1 pts - Basic

The program assessment for SOSC is a capstone project. Students complete an online portfolio containing examples of the SOSC program outcomes and these are evaluated by the faculty based on rubric-scores.

Human Services PLOs:

- 1. Describe the role of human services professionals in a variety of professional settings.
- 2. Differentiate contemporary social and mental health issues, including substance abuse and dependence, and examine the ways in which those issues impact society.
- 3. Apply group and interpersonal communication and leadership skills to help individuals tackle challenges in their lives and relationships.
- 4. Apply case management skills (assessment, documentation, treatment planning, referrals, and crisis intervention) in typical human services situations.
- 5. Identify institutions and options for human services providers and clients that may be helpful in managing conflicts.

- 6. Interpret human behaviors within the context of a variety of family systems and multidimensional systems.
- 7. Exhibit proficient and consistent adherence to professional, ethical standards, including confidentiality, sensitivity when working with diverse populations, and responsibility for professional growth.

Evaluation for each: 3 pts – Mastery; 2 pts – Proficient; 1 pts - Basic

The program assessment for HMSV is the Field Experience II course. Students complete skills rubrics, reflections and logs reflecting their preparedness for work.

Statistical Data Results: Since the capstone courses are required for graduation, the graduation rates in each program reflect capstone completion.

What has been learned?

The majority of students completing the Social Science program at EWC transfer to four-year institutions to pursue degrees in those respective fields. There are few job opportunities available to graduates who possess only Associates Degrees. The Social Science program is vital to the institution because it provides not only courses for majors but also multiple courses that fulfill general education requirements.

Students who transfer to the University of Wyoming are fully accepted at junior standing and have had no problems completing degrees in social science areas. Students who transfer to Chadron State College sometimes do have transfer issues with individual courses, but do transfer with junior standing.

EWC faculty have worked in conjunction with their counterparts at the University of Wyoming to develop 2+2 transfer agreements in the areas of Political Science. Psychology, Anthropology, Sociology, Social Work, History, and Social Sciences Secondary Education. These agreements provide students a pathway to complete a bachelor's degree in four years.

It is too early to have any meaningful data on the Human Services graduates. The first students earning the degree finished in May 2021.

Strengths of the Program and Faculty:

The Social Science program maintains consistent enrollment in core courses as well as providing courses satisfying a General Education requirement for many educational programs at EWC. For several years, faculty have been devoted to developing program courses for distance delivery, increasing enrollment and course offerings.

The Social Science degree at EWC provides a high-quality transfer education for an affordable price in a non-threatening and supportive environment; this is a place where students want to come to get a good education and good college experience. When they leave EWC, students are prepared to meet academic, technological, social, and cultural demands. EWC keeps our community young and vibrant by producing quality graduates and by offering quality programs.

The full-time faculty members in the social sciences are well-qualified and well-respected. They have the requisite graduate training and stay current in their fields.

There is one well-qualified and well-respected adjunct who has taken the lead on the four HMSV courses. Remaining course work consists of general education courses and, therefore, the Human Services faculty are, by in large, the same as the Social Science faculty.

Part III: Recommendations

Faculty Recommendations:

The faculty are concerned about the situation that exists with respect to upper level courses. In psychology and sociology in particular, upper level face to face classes are not successful because of the lack of student enrollment. The faculty has successfully put these courses on-line, but student comments reflect that they are frustrated with the number of classes that are ONLY offered on-line without an in class equivalent. This is of particular disadvantage to international students who are limited to one on-line course each semester.

The faculty are further concerned with the loss of a full-time person in the departments of history and political science. These departments used to have 1.5 faculty dedicated to them; currently there is one full-time faculty member (teaching over 30 credits annually) with other vital and core courses being taught by adjuncts (more than 30 hours annually). The loss of the faculty position led to the inability to teach the range of courses needed to keep students at EWC for a full two years, thereby weakening the program. It also leads to the overuse of adjuncts who, while qualified, do not take ownership in these areas nor in the growth or advising of students.

In regard to the substantiated shortage of mental health professionals nationwide, EWC's social science program, if afforded the opportunity to expand enrollment, would fill a grave need with the counseling and social work professions. A strong recruitment voice in high schools, mental health service agencies, hospitals and care facilities encouraging individuals to enroll in this underserved area is imperative for growth in the social science department. EWC has a strong social science program in place and dedicated faculty to provide a valuable social science degree that will directly transfer into an established mental health professional program at the university level.

Finally, the low pay for adjuncts and lack of consistent raises and below comparator salaries is very concerning. Raises and cost-of-living adjustments have not kept up with the economy. This makes it difficult to be competitive in filling faculty positions and hiring adjuncts.

Strategic Action Plans:

-2019-2022:

Attached is a plan from the Human Services Program asking for assistance on that program's administrative duties since it is staffed by adjuncts who are not paid for the administrative work faculty are required to do.

Department Head Recommendations:

1. Human Services Program:

The Human Services program equips students with the knowledge and skills to work in a variety of helping professions, such as social work, counseling, and community outreach. Graduates from this program often pursue careers in human services agencies, nonprofit organizations, healthcare settings, and government agencies.

Job prospects for graduates of Human Services programs are generally favorable. The demand for professionals in this field is expected to grow due to various factors, including an aging population, increased focus on mental health services, and a greater need for social support systems.

The EWC Human Services program would benefit from having a full-time faculty member. Faculty members bring extensive expertise and experience in the field, allowing them to provide students with valuable insights and mentorship. Additionally, full-time faculty have more time to engage in research, community outreach, and professional development activities, which enriches the program's curriculum and keeps it up-to-date with industry trends. The practical nature of human services education necessitates a robust faculty presence to guide students through internships, field placements, and hands-on learning experiences.

2. Social Sciences Program:

The Social Sciences program encompasses a broad range of disciplines, including sociology, psychology, anthropology, political science, and economics. It focuses on studying human behavior, societal structures, cultural phenomena, and political systems, fostering critical thinking, research skills, and an understanding of complex social issues.

Graduates of Social Sciences programs possess versatile skills that can be applied to various career paths. While the job prospects for specific disciplines within the social sciences may vary, the overall demand for social science graduates remains steady. Graduates often find employment in fields such as research, policy analysis, market research, social advocacy, education, and public administration. They can work in government agencies, nonprofit organizations, research institutes, educational institutions, consulting firms, and think tanks. The interdisciplinary nature of social sciences allows graduates to adapt to different roles and industries.

Additional faculty in this area is essential for the EWC Social Sciences program. Full-time faculty bring in-depth subject knowledge, expertise, and theoretical perspectives to the program. They foster critical thinking and intellectual development among students while guiding them through research projects and helping them develop a comprehensive understanding of the social sciences. Full-time faculty also enhance the program's reputation and attract prospective students.

Conclusion:

The Human Services and the Social Sciences programs offer promising job prospects for graduates in various fields. While the demand for professionals in the human services field is projected to grow significantly, social sciences graduates benefit from the versatility of their skills. In both programs, a strong presence of full-time faculty members is crucial to provide students with comprehensive education, mentorship, and professional guidance. Full-time faculty members contribute to the program's reputation and enrich the curriculum to meet the evolving needs of the respective fields. Therefore, every effort should be made to accommodate these areas primarily with full-time faculty members, and only supplemented with adjuncts when necessary.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Chairman Baumgartner

FROM: Dr. Jeffry Hawes, President

DATE: August 7, 2023

SUBJECT: Alignment of 2021-2025 Strategic Plan with Persistence, Retention & Graduation Rates

Aligning a college's strategic plan with persistence, retention, and graduation rates is crucial for several reasons. These metrics are directly related to the success and effectiveness of the institution in fulfilling its mission and goals. Here are some rationales for why this alignment is essential:

- 1. Student Success: The primary purpose of any college is to promote student success and enable students to achieve their academic and career goals. By focusing on improving persistence, retention, and graduation rates, the institution ensures that students have a higher chance of completing their degrees and obtaining the knowledge and skills they need to thrive in their chosen fields.
- 2. Quality of Education: Higher persistence, retention, and graduation rates often indicate that students are satisfied with the quality of education and support services provided by the college. It reflects the effectiveness of teaching methods, curriculum design, and the overall learning environment. By aligning the strategic plan with these rates, the college can continuously work towards enhancing its academic programs and services.
- 3. Resource Utilization: High dropout rates and low graduation rates can lead to inefficient use of resources. When students leave the college before completing their degrees, the investments made in their education do not yield the expected returns. By prioritizing persistence and retention, the college optimizes its resource allocation and ensures that the investments made in student success are maximized.
- 4. Reputation and Rankings: Colleges with high graduation rates and strong student success indicators tend to enjoy a positive reputation and higher rankings. This reputation can attract more students, faculty, and funding opportunities, further strengthening the institution's ability to fulfill its mission.

  5. Financial Sustainability: Improved persistence and graduation rates can positively impact the college's financial sustainability. Higher graduation rates mean a larger pool of alumni who are likely to contribute to the institution through donations and other forms of support. Financial stability is vital for the long-term viability of the college and its ability to invest in academic and campus improvements.
- 6. Accreditation and Accountability: Many accrediting bodies and funding agencies place emphasis on student success metrics as indicators of institutional effectiveness. By aligning the strategic plan with persistence, retention, and graduation rates, the college demonstrates its commitment to accountability and continuous improvement to stakeholders and regulatory bodies.
- 7. Equity and Access: Focusing on persistence, retention, and graduation rates also highlights the college's commitment to promoting equity and access in higher education. By identifying and addressing barriers to student success, such as financial challenges, academic support, or campus climate, the institution can work towards ensuring that all students, regardless of background, have an equal opportunity to thrive academically.

Overall, aligning the strategic plan with persistence, retention, and graduation rates demonstrates the college's dedication to its students' success, effective resource management, accountability, and continuous improvement, all of which are essential for maintaining a thriving and reputable institution.

Concurrent and Dual Enrollment MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING (2023-2024) Between Eastern Wyoming College and School District

DEFINITIONS

Concurrent Enrollment

- Concurrent enrollment courses are college classes taught by high school faculty who have been approved as community college adjunct faculty and who are teaching said courses as part of their duties as a school district employee. As such, these college courses also satisfy high school graduation requirements. These courses have been approved by the college as having equivalent content, learning competencies, and assessments to an existing college course. Course content and competencies are equivalent to the related college course as determined and defined by the college faculty.
- High school faculty teaching concurrent enrollment courses are considered adjunct faculty for the purposes of the college. Adjunct faculty teaching concurrent enrollment courses are approved by the college and will be included in communications with all college adjunct faculty. Additionally, high school faculty teaching concurrent courses interact as required with the appropriate college representative for issues such as student records, grades, and other student or learning issues.
- The student will be graded consistently with the standards, expectations and academic freedom governed by full-time and adjunct faculty at the college. The students will receive a grade on the official college and high school transcripts.

Dual Enrollment

- Dual enrollment credit is given to qualified high school students who complete college level courses for which the college hires and pays the instructor and which the high school agrees to allow high school graduation credit.
- The course will typically be delivered on the college's academic calendar and schedule; students and the local high school may need to make adjustments collaboratively to meet this schedule. The high school student will be treated as equal to any college student in that course. Coursework and grading will be according to the college standards and expectations. The students will receive a grade on the official college transcript, as well as the official high school transcript. Qualified high school students have access to the full variety of delivery modalities such as face-to-face, online, or hybrid (ZOOM/online).

Jump Start Courses

- Jump Start courses are classes taught at the college that are not required for high school graduation purposes. Such courses are considered enrichment to a student's educational pathway in providing seamless transition to advanced post-secondary programs of study.
- The cost of all fees and textbooks for Jump Start courses are the student's responsibility.
- All costs of additional course work beyond the terms of this MOU are the student's responsibility.

PURPOSE

The purpose of this agreement is to establish a partnership that provides post-secondary opportunities for eligible high school students, specifically concurrent and dual enrollment classes. Additionally, the purpose of this agreement is to define the procedures related to concurrent enrollment of high school students in college classes as defined by Wyoming Statute 21-20-201.

Wyoming community colleges believe that concurrent enrollment programs allow for opportunities to

- Serve as an impetus or vehicle for seamless transition between high school and post-secondary education.
  - Establish a partnership to support student success.
  - Establish written agreements between the school district and a community college that clarify the process and mutual expectations.
  - Ensure that the high school faculty and students are informed of the rigor of college courses.
  - Ensure that more high school students are prepared for college-level work upon graduation.
- Serve as an access point for students who otherwise are unlikely to attend college.
  - Reduce the time associated with completing a postsecondary credential.
  - Provide opportunities for those who did not know that they were "college material."

- Facilitate successful student completion of college courses and demonstrate that there are college programs available for them.
- Align and fortify curricular options available to advanced high school students through enrollment in college transfer and technical courses.
- Provide a head start for advanced students already planning to attend college or enter the workforce.
  - Ensure that more high school students are college-ready upon graduation and have acquired the skills necessary to compete in the state's global economy.

COURSE OFFERINGS

Eastern Wyoming College will collaborate with the appropriate personnel at the local high schools to identify potential courses and faculty for each high school. If a course is not offered in a format accessible to a student through Eastern Wyoming College, the district has the option to utilize courses through Wyclass.org. Eastern Wyoming College will not request textbook updates for concurrent enrollment courses offered in the high schools more frequently than every four years unless both parties agree to an update. The number of concurrent enrollment courses available to students will be limited only by the approved offerings at their high schools which are attached in Appendix A of this MOU.

FACULTY APPROVAL

High school faculty who teach concurrent enrollment courses are college adjunct faculty; therefore, their applications to teach a college course are reviewed in the same manner and according to the same standards as all other college adjunct faculty who teach a specific course. All employment forms and official transcripts must be submitted through the appropriate office.

A faculty credential approval process, consistent with college accreditation, requirements and needs for flexibility in exceptional circumstances will be developed. Exceptions shall be based upon demonstrated proficiency in the discipline, progress toward graduate education, or appropriate certification.

Eastern Wyoming College follows guidelines established by the Wyoming Community College Commission (WCCC) and standards established by the National Alliance for Concurrent Enrollment Partnerships (NACEP) for approving adjunct faculty. All concurrent enrollment instructors are Eastern Wyoming College Adjunct Faculty.

Adjunct faculty members who teach transfer courses typically hold a master's degree in the teaching discipline or master's degree in a closely related academic field or subfield with a minimum of 18 credit hours of graduate level coursework in the teaching discipline. In some instances, faculty without a master's degree or the required 18 graduate credit hours of graduate level course work may be deemed qualified by the expertise they have developed through other means. This may include a combination of equivalent tested experience, training, or alternative credentialing qualifications.

Faculty teaching in Career Technical Education (CTE) college-level courses should hold an associate's or bachelor's degree in the teaching discipline or field and/or a combination of education, training, tested experience, and alternative credentialing. When an academic degree or credential does not exist, equivalent tested experience may be applied.

The department head of the discipline at Eastern Wyoming College can provide specific credentialing details.

Provisional approval for faculty who do not yet meet the expectations for full approval is permitted under the following conditions. In recognition of the need to adhere to the Higher Learning Commission's (HLC) minimum Faculty qualification, faculty at Eastern Wyoming College who are transitioning to meet the minimal requirement will have an education plan developed in collaboration with their supervisor. Education plans will be used in the event of curricular changes that require an update to faculty credentialing.

Table A

| If a teacher is provisionally approved to teach a transfer course because s/he | Then the teacher must |
|--|-----------------------|
|  |                       |

| (1) possesses a bachelor's degree related to the discipline and a master's degree in a different discipline than the assigned course | successfully complete 18 graduate hours in the discipline no later than September 1, 2023 or obtain the credentialing specifically required for his or her teaching discipline |
|--|--|
| (2) possesses the industry appropriate credentials and the minimum education requirements for the discipline of the assigned course  | successfully complete necessary education and industry specific credentials no later than September 1, 2023  |

Provisional approval will continue annually as long as a provisionally approved teacher demonstrates annual progress toward full approval according to the relevant section marked in Table A. Annual evidence of progress, as recorded on official college transcripts, should be sent to the Eastern Wyoming College Office of Human Resources, where they will be reviewed by the Vice President of Academic Services.

Failure to submit annual evidence of progress towards full approval will result in non-approval and the adjunct faculty member may no longer teach the assigned course at the high school campus until he/she has attained full approval. Once the adjunct faculty member successfully completes the requirements for full approval, he/she will receive fully approved status.

STUDENT ELIGIBILITY

- 1. Be seniors, juniors, or have the permission of a high school official; and,
- 2. Have permission from their parent(s) or guardian(s) and a designated school official; and
- 3. Meet course entrance requirements and/or prior course work required before enrolling in a particular course.

Note: No high school, community college or BOCES/BOCHES can impose additional eligibility requirements.

PROGRAM COORDINATION & QUALITY

Each partnership shall provide a liaison between the high school and college with responsibilities for coordinating advisement, arranging course schedules, regular and standardized communications, course transferability, and support services.

The high school will provide a designated official at the high school to serve as the point of contact on matters related to concurrent enrollment. Duties include (but are not limited to):

- Coordination of appropriate paperwork (WDE requirements, course summary form, student registration, dual credit contract, etc.),
- Act as communication liaison for college with faculty and students,
- Assist college personnel in implementation of electronic course evaluations,
- Assure that each student and parent signs a copy of the Community College-High School Dual/Concurrent Registration form which discusses student responsibility and transfer issues. It is important that the student and his/her parents clearly understand that enrolling in a concurrent enrollment or dual enrollment course will result in a college grade on a permanent college transcript and a high school grade on a high school transcript. The concurrent course grade will contribute to that student's College/university GPA.
- Remind students of college course drop dates, withdrawal dates and possible impact on future financial aid.

The college shall require:

- 1. Collaboration with individual high schools to develop plans for providing dual or concurrent courses to meet the needs of their students and ensure quality.
- 2. Classes taught in high schools use equivalent syllabi, assignments, and end-of-course assessments as those used in courses taught on campus.

TUITION AND FEES

By WS 21-20-201, if there is a concurrent enrollment and dual enrollment agreement, students cannot be charged even if they fail or withdraw from the course.

As required by Wyoming Statute 21-20-201, (d), "The school district and the university or community college district entering into an agreement for purposes of this section shall, if there are any fees within the agreement, establish fees to be assessed the school district for student participation under the program, the payment schedule for the established fees and other necessary arrangements to facilitate fee payment and collection."

Concurrent Enrollment Payments

Therefore, the school district agrees to pay the tuition for all students enrolled in concurrent enrollment based on the final class roster issued on or about midterm of the current semester. After the college receives the sum for students' tuition from the school district, the college agrees to pay an identical amount to that school district for space, supplies, instruction, and other related costs.

Dual and Jump Start Payments

- School District will pay all mandatory student fees, course fees and textbook costs for the students participating in dual credit courses according to the rate and refund schedule established by the college for the current year under this MOU.
- The Eastern Wyoming College Business Office will issue a billing statement to School

  District for dual credit fees no later than January 30 for the fall semester and within thirty

  (30) days after the end of the spring semester. Eastern Wyoming College billing is done after the end of the term to ensure that all changes to student schedules and late starting classes are included.

TEXTBOOKS AND MATERIALS

The high school is responsible for ensuring that textbooks and materials are available for these students. As required by Wyoming Statute 21-20-201(d), "Any textbooks, materials or equipment purchased under the established fees shall be addressed within the agreement entered into between the university or college and the school district. The university or community college shall not directly assess and collect any fee from the participating student for textbooks, materials, student services or any other fees otherwise assessed and collected from students attending the institution."

COLLEGE RESOURCES

Students will have access to all the standard support services that any college student has available. Services include: advising, tutoring, disability assistance, etc. Participating students who take classes on the college campus will meet with an Eastern Wyoming College admissions representative (transitional advisor) prior to registering in order to receive advising and insure completion of all application forms and assessment tests.

GRADING

Grading shall be valid and reliable based on student academic performance. Weighted grades may be used in secondary schools, but final grade point average (GPA) shall be computed on a 4.0 (A=4.0, B=3, C=2, D=1, F=0) scale.

Students in concurrent enrollment classes are held to the same standards of achievement as those expected of students in on campus sections. Students in concurrent enrollment classes are held to the same grading standards as those expected of students in on campus sections. Students in concurrent enrollment courses are assessed using the same methods (e.g., papers, portfolios, quizzes, labs, etc.) as students in on campus sections.

DISTANCE EDUCATION

Ongoing collaborations between the University of Wyoming, community colleges, school districts, and the Wyoming Department of Education should continue regarding technological infrastructure and distance delivery methods to improve access to quality dual and concurrent enrollment courses.

DATA COLLECTION AND ANALYSIS

Concurrent and dual enrollment courses provide some students and families substantial benefit, but only if the courses truly provide students opportunity to acquire the knowledge and skills necessary for success in subsequent related courses and/or the workforce. To assist schools and colleges in assessment of student course outcomes, data on student participation and performance in concurrent and dual enrollment coursework, high school graduation, success in subsequent academic coursework, persistence of post-secondary programs toward certificate and/or degree completion may be collected. Wyoming community colleges and the University of Wyoming have common course names and numbers which may facilitate data analysis. Courses numbered identically, i.e. ENGL 1010, offered students at schools, community colleges and UW will be included in any assessments and analysis. Any data and/or results will be provided, upon request, to educational providers, educational researchers, and governmental entities with an appropriate rationale.

Renewal of Agreement: This agreement will be reviewed and renewed on an annual basis.
